Dear Valued Customer,

Due to the recent discovery of contamination with melamine and melamine related compounds in wheat gluten and rice protein concentrate imported from China, we have received many requests for information regarding the origin of ingredients used in our products.

To the best of our knowledge and belief, none of the products manufactured by Diehl Food Ingredients, Inc. contain wheat gluten or rice protein concentrate. In addition, none of the protein sources used in our products are imported from China.

If you need further information regarding this statement, please contact us.

Sincerely,

Jenny Guilford
